Welcome from Raj Athwal – Executive Director

The Mulberry Centre

Dear Candidate,

We are very pleased you are interested in applying for the position of Complementary Therapies Lead at The Mulberry Centre. I hope you will find the information in this Candidate Brief useful and more generally, the content of our website: <https://www.themulberrycentre.co.uk/>

The Mulberry Centre (TMC) is an award-winning cancer information and support centre and an independent charity, based on the grounds of the West Middlesex University Hospital in Isleworth, West London. It has been open for over 19 years and has provided services and support to more than 15,000 people.

We are seeking a Complementary Therapies Lead to work closely with the Mulberry Macmillan Cancer Information and Support Services Manager. We are looking for an individual who leads the development of the Mulberry Centre's Complementary therapy services and has a pivotal role in managing the provision of complementary therapy services to patients, carers and the bereaved. You will need to be compassionate and empathetic individual striving to make a difference to people affected by cancer.

If you are interested in the work of The Mulberry Centre and have the relevant experience to perform this significant role, we would very much like to hear from you. Please contact me via email: raj.athwal@themulberrycentre.co.uk to discuss the opportunity in more detail.

Raj Athwal
Executive Director

2) About The Mulberry Centre

History

The Mulberry Centre is the culmination of a series of events. Over twenty ago, the West Middlesex University Hospital NHS Trust launched its first major fundraising campaign under the heading of the Pulse Appeal. West London needed a cancer support service – somewhere for anyone affected by a diagnosis of cancer to visit for information, advice and support.

Visits were made to similar Centre's around the country to gain an understanding of the viability of the service and its ongoing funding needs and to stimulate ideas for the design of our purpose-built Centre. In the summer of 1999, the cancer care Centre gained its name and visual branding – The Mulberry Centre Appeal was born. Fundraising continued, and building started in 2000. In 2001 the dream became a reality and the doors were opened for the first time.

After four years, The Mulberry Centre moved from being a subsidiary charity of the West Middlesex University Hospital Charitable Fund, to become a charity in its own right. On 1st August 2005, The Mulberry Centre became an independent charity, with its own Board of Trustees. This development allowed further scope for funding applications and an easier route for donations. Ties with the West Middlesex University Hospital continue to be strong, but the Centre gained strategic control over its future.

Today, The Mulberry Centre is a well-established resource in West London and has received many thousands of visits from both new and established users of the Centre for over 19 years.

Mission

The core mission of The Mulberry Centre is to improve the lives of anyone affected by cancer, including those with a diagnosis, carers, family members and bereaved relatives, by enhancing emotional, psychological and physical well-being.

Activities

Since 2001, The Mulberry Centre has grown and adapted its services to meet the needs of the people we aim to serve. As people are living longer with a cancer diagnosis, we recognise that their needs may change over time. It is not just the physical manifestation of the disease, but the emotional and practical impacts that we are able to respond to.

We aim to deliver a range of information and support services to all people affected by a diagnosis of cancer: to the cancer patient, the main carer, and those bereaved by cancer. Services include complementary and relaxation therapies, ongoing one to one support on a drop-in basis, counselling sessions and support groups, plus a wide range of workshops.

The combination of information, support, self-management and relaxation helps people feel in control; it helps them to make the right decisions to manage the physical and mental trauma of a cancer diagnosis, treatment and recovery. In addition, our community engagement has continued to be strengthening referral pathways with local community groups, to ensure that people hear about us at the earliest opportunity in their cancer journey.

Longstanding relationships with a wide range of health professionals, public bodies and voluntary organisations also help us to achieve and sustain our aims.

The services offered by TMC are briefly described below. Further details can be found on the TMC website.

Recognitions and Awards

In 2010 we were chosen as a beacon site for their Macmillan Environmental Quality Mark award for the excellence of our facilities; this was awarded again in 2012, 2015 and in November 2018. In 2014 The Mulberry Centre was named Hounslow Charity of the Year at the annual volunteer awards ceremony. In recent years, The Mulberry Centre has been the Charity of the Year of both the Mayor of Hounslow and the Mayor of Richmond upon Thames. We have also won the Hounslow Health Garden of Year Award twice. In March 2019, the Complementary Therapy team won a prestigious Macmillan Volunteers Award for their commitment and determination to improve the lives of people affected by cancer.

How we operate

We have a staff team of around 10, in full-time equivalent terms, and an expenditure budget of approximately £450,000 each year. The costs of running The Mulberry Centre have to be met by the income that we manage to raise. Although a certain amount of funding is received under contract, we have needed to find the bulk of our funding from charitable donations and fundraising activities. We have over 135 volunteers providing approximately 8,000 hours of time each year to provide support and services to our clients. We would not be able to provide the support we do for people affected by cancer without our volunteer workforce.

The Role of Complementary Therapies Lead

Reports to the Mulberry Macmillan Cancer Information and Support Services Manager

Overall objectives of the service

The Complementary Therapies Lead is responsible for the development of The Mulberry Centre's (TMC) complementary therapies (both one-to-one and group wellbeing classes) and has a pivotal role in supporting the therapy team as well as managing the provision of complementary therapies to patients, carers and the bereaved. The key objectives are to:

- 1.1 Communicate and work collaboratively with colleagues and key stakeholders (e.g. Executive Director, Mulberry Macmillan Information and Support Services Manager (MMCISM), Trustees, volunteers) to ensure the smooth running of the complementary and relaxation therapy services and achieve TMC's organisational objectives.
- 1.2 Be responsible for recruiting, managing and developing a team of qualified volunteer complementary and relaxation therapists, including identifying the training and development needs of complementary therapy volunteers in their roles at TMC.
- 1.3 Provide guidance and professional support for all complementary therapists in order to ensure that the Centre's high reputation for these services is maintained, addressing issues of quality, audit, safety, development and best practice.
- 1.4 Identify needs in relation to the development of the complementary therapy services, and co-ordinate the introduction of other therapies.
- 1.5 To develop and deliver a relevant programme of informative workshops and social/creative programme for anyone accessing the Centre.

Main Responsibilities

2. Service delivery

- 2.1 Ensure that the support and information services offered at TMC remain user-led (a product of user need).
- 2.2 Ensure comprehensive holistic assessment of patients for complementary therapies treatment, and evaluation of interventions.
- 2.3 Ensure the efficient and effective system for referral is maintained and developed.
- 2.4 Implement and monitor an effective mechanism for ensuring accurate and comprehensive written records are completed by volunteer therapists.
- 2.5 Prioritise and co-ordinate workload of complementary therapies team according to the needs of patients/carers/bereaved and skills of therapists.
- 2.6 Ensure the efficient control, supply and storage of complementary therapy resources, eg oils, towels, equipment etc.
- 2.7 Ensure that therapy rooms are kept to a high level of cleanliness, equipment is well maintained and that there is an effective system for the supply of clean laundry.
- 2.8 Ensure compliance with the requirements of the relevant Professional Codes of Conduct and Practice for each volunteer therapist and each therapy offered (e.g. ITEC, CNHC, IFPA, BWY, etc.)
- 2.9 Ensure practice in complementary therapy is evidence-based and encourage the use of research in further development of clinical practice.

3. Management and Development of service

- 3.1 Liaise with the MMCISM in drafting and implementing the complementary therapy element of the TMC Business Plan including budgets for the service.
- 3.2 Undertake an annual review of the therapy service provision (April-March).

- 3.3 Lead the development of policies and procedures for complementary and relaxation therapies to ensure they meet TMC requirements and nationally recognised standards.
- 3.4 Manage and develop a team of volunteer complementary therapists including recruitment, induction and annual review of each complementary therapist.
- 3.5 Ensure that each volunteer therapist holds current public and professional liability and is a current member of their relevant professional body and/or registered with the CNHC
- 3.6 Recruit volunteer complementary therapists to ensure there is the capacity to maintain the sustainability of the service in accordance with agreed standards.
- 3.7 Explore the further development and manage the introduction of other complementary therapies as appropriate within a cancer care environment
- 3.8 Collect and collate statistical data as required by the Executive Director.
- 3.9 Liaise and network with other complementary therapists and other centres involved in cancer care and feedback knowledge gained to the Executive Director and Mulberry Macmillan Information and Support Services Manager (MMCISSM).
- 3.10 In collaboration with the MMCISSM, liaise with other healthcare professionals e.g. Cancer Nurse Specialists at West Middlesex University Hospital to communicate the role of available complementary therapies to enable them to make referrals.

4. Training and development

- 4.1 Develop and support a culture that acknowledges the importance of training and personal development by organising volunteer induction and professional development programme relevant to their roles at TMC.
- 4.2 Be aware of recent legislation and recommendations in complementary therapies and changing health trends and share such information with volunteer therapists to ensure that their practice is in line with professional protocols and TMC policies.
- 4.3 Provide support to the TMC therapy volunteers on the use of complementary therapies in a cancer care setting by developing, maintaining and documenting guidance on best practice.
- 4.4 Deal with therapists' enquiries relating to specific issues and concerns and to provide any necessary information and follow up.
- 4.5 Chair regular meetings of the volunteer complementary and relaxation therapists, including preparing an Agenda and producing Minutes.
- 4.6 Develop and maintain a 'complementary passport' for all therapists to log and keep updated details of their relevant Continuing Professional Development.

5. General

- 5.1 Drive a culture that embraces change, open communication, ambition, innovation, future-thinking and external focus.
- 5.2 Ensure the welfare and safety of service users and volunteers within TMC.
- 5.3 Undertake activities to increase awareness of TMC through contributing to internal and external publicity across a range of media.
- 5.4 Represent TMC to outside groups or the general public from time to time.
- 5.5 TMC expects Complementary Therapies Lead to demonstrate a commitment to their own development, to take advantage of education and training opportunities and develop their professional competence.
- 5.6 All staff, contractors and volunteers are required to abide by TMC's Health and Safety Policy.
- 5.7 All staff, contractors and volunteers are required to respect TMC's Confidentiality and Data Protection Policy.
- 5.8 TMC is a no-smoking area for everyone.
- 5.9 Undertake additional activities related to the role as identified in discussion with the Mulberry Macmillan Cancer Information and Support Services Manager and Executive Director.
